Please note that the Camp is a philanthropic venture of Saskatchewan Freemasons. Participants must be sponsored by a lodge; however, campers do not need to be related to a Mason. The cost of the camp is shared by lodges, Grand Lodge and participants. The camp is smoke, drug and alcohol free. Campers are required to leave electronic games, ipods, and cell phones at home or turn them into the camp office for the duration of the camp. Transportation to and from the camp is the responsibility of the participants.

*- not just any old camp - Youth Leadership Camp!

A week of action packed activities at one of the Premier Youth Leadership Camps in Western Canada.

Successful completion of our program provides credit toward completion of the Duke of Edinburgh Youth Awards Program.

The curriculum emphasizes leadership, motivational and interpersonal skill development.

Skill development and informational sessions include: Leadership skills, Critical thinking, Orienteering, Basic First Aid/CPR and Car Maintenance. Also being considered is an educational field trip.

The campers are given the opportunity to provide feedback, to share in decision-making and to participate in camp work under the watchful eye of competent and dedicated staff which includes an experienced medical attendant.

They also participate in the development of the camp newspaper, which contains information that supplements and reinforces the material presented during the day, as well as providing topical information, personal profiles, and other enjoyable material.

But it is not all work for the campers! There is plenty of time for fun, sport, social and leisure activities that serve as a foundation for the development of a positive, responsible leadership attitude, lasting friendships and plenty of terrific memories.

I am responsible!
